

Golden Days of Bollywood

A talk by Mita Lad at Watford Museum

Friday 27 March 2009, 2pm

Free admission (booking essential)

About Mita Lad

Mita graduated in Film TV and Radio Studies from Staffordshire University and then went on to study for a Masters in Film Studies at the Universiteit van Amsterdam. She also has a Postgraduate teaching qualification from the University of Nottingham.

Mita has taught film and media modules to a variety of students from different backgrounds and until recently was a research assistant at the Creative Industries Observatory based at the London College of Communications.

She has published an entry in the Schirmer Encyclopaedia of Film. Her Interests lie in academic research of films themselves as well as the film industries and she specialises in World Cinema, psychoanalysis and adaptation theory.

Watford Museum
194 Lower High Street,
Watford WD17 2DT
Telephone 01923 232297
Email: info@watfordmuseum.org.uk
www.watfordmuseum.org.uk

West Herts College

FDMX
FEDERAL DEPARTMENT OF MEDIA
AND COMMUNICATIONS